About Innocence Canada

Innocence is Canada is a national non-profit organization dedicated to overturning wrongful convictions. Since 1993, we have helped exonerate 34 innocent people across the country. The work we do at Innocence Canada is a highly specialized area of criminal law and we exclusively focus on homicide cases. We are also a national leader in wrongful conviction education and reform, regularly lending our expertise to academic institutions, the criminal justice system, government bodies, legal entities, media outlets, and everything in between.

Description of Responsibilities

Our articling student provides integral support to our legal team. Throughout your articles with us, you will have the unique opportunity to assist in reviewing claims of wrongful convictions and, where applicable, in preparing materials on behalf of wrongly convicted applicants for submission to the Minister of Justice. Under the direction and mentorship of our Chief Legal Counsel (your articling principal), you will gain hands-on experience analyzing case files, reviewing disclosure and transcripts, identifying new avenues of investigation, and conducting legal research. Additionally, the nature of the work we do at Innocence Canada is collaborative and we require our articling student to work with both our internal legal team as well as with external case reviewers. Please note, while your articles will focus on casework, opportunities may arise to assist with our education and reform portfolios.

Experience and Qualifications

All candidates must meet the following requirements:

- Passion for wrongful conviction advocacy
- Completion of LLB or JD by start date (August 2027)
- Awareness and understanding of the exoneration process in Canada
- Advanced criminal law and evidence related coursework
- Strong skillsets in all of the following areas:
 - Attention to detail
 - Critical thinking
 - Problem-solving
 - Legal research and writing
 - Reviewing and synthesizing large volumes of information
 - Taking initiative and working independently
 - Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in a small team environment

Experience or knowledge that will be considered an asset:

- Carriage of cases in a legal setting (e.g., a clinic, placement, or law firm)
- Demonstrated experience in wrongful convictions (e.g., experience reviewing claims of wrongful convictions, completion of a wrongful conviction course, volunteer work, internship/placement, etc.)
- Proficiency in French
